Charged With Robbery.

Willie Wallace, col., was arrested Wednesday near Julien, charged with having robbed Oles Russell, col. Russell claims that Wallace knocked him down with a rock and took his purse, but when he saw other parties coming up, he threw his pocket book down and ran.

Wm. Van Dalsen, the murderer of his mistress, Fannie Porter, in Louisville, has confessed his crime and is believed to be also implicated in a murder of four years ago. Louisville is getting a very unusual reputation for lawlessness. It is, if possible, worse than Cincinnati.

HOBBY WITHDREW

And Richardson Was named on First Ballot in Third District.

Scottsville, Ky., Sept. 20.—James M. Richardson, of Barren county, and at present a member of the State Prison Commission, was nominated for Congress tonight by the Third district Democratic convention on the first ballot, by a vote of 54 to 45 over N. A. Porter, of Warren county.

W. J. Gooch was elected chairman by a combination of the Richardson and Hobby forces and recognized Richardson delegations in the counties of Allen and Todd.

The real fight was in the meeting of the committee on credentials, which was in session four hours. There was little dispute as to the Allen delegation. Chairman Goad, of the county Democratic committee, stated before the credentials committee that he had signed the credentials of the Richardson delegation this morning because he was confident that Richardson had a majority of the votes in the county convention, although he was a Porter man. The recommendation that the Richardson delegation be seated was unanimous.

In the Todd contest S. W. Forgy represented the contestants and S. Y. Trimble the regular delegation.

Each side charged the other with repeating and voting its men in the county convention many times. Several witnesses were heard on both sides. After considerable wrangling a motion was made that the contesting delegation be seated. This was lost by 4 to 6.

On a call for nominations Ed J. Hobby, of Simpson county, presented the name of James M. Richardson, and W. R. Gardner placed in nomination N. A. Porter. A call of the counties showed that Richardson had 54 votes and Porter 45. Mr. Porter immediately moved that Mr. Richardson's nomination be made unanimous.

GENERAL ATTACKS

Regarded as Likely at Port Arthur and Mukden.

Port Arthur is again the center of attraction as regards the war in the Far East. A general attack by land and sea is regarded as likely to follow the Japanese assault upon the redoubt protecting the water supply of the fortress and town, and participation of the fleet under Admiral Togo is expected.

Eight and possibly nine Japanese divisions are reported to be advancing on Mukden, and another battle between the armies under Gen. Kuroki and Gen. Kuropatkin is imminent. St. Petersburg has heard that the Russian Baltic squadron has been re-inforced by four warships purchased from Argentina.

ARMENIAN MASSACRE.

His subject will be The Massacre of Christians in Armenia by Turkey in 1895, of which he was an eye witness. In four hours 100,000 Christians were put to death. Admission is free.

Will Lead The New York Democrats to Victory.

Harmonious Outcome of the Saratoga Convention This Week.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 22.—The New York Democratic convention adjourned at Saratoga yesterday afternoon after nominating by unanimous action a state ticket headed by Justice D. Cady Herrick, of Albany, for Governor. Justice Herrick was agreed upon as a compromise candidate, and the convention was harmonious throughout. A notable feature of the convention was the disappearance of all open evidences of the factional warfare between Murphy and McCarren and their respective adherents. The convention was large and notably enthusiastic.

The platform adopted includes a direct personal attack upon Gov. Odell, as well as a denunciation of the Republican Administration, an endorsement of the Democratic national ticket, platform and resolutions, and strongly worded discussions of State and National issues from the Democratic point of view.

The groom is special agent of the L. & N., and is a brother of Mr. W. R. Wicks, deputy county clerk.

Citizens Petition for Rural Free Delivery.

A petition, numerously signed by citizens living along the proposed rural route out of Crofton, has been forwarded to the superintendent of rural free delivery routes at Washington, D. C., asking that a route be established. The new route would extend west from Crofton to the Consolation neighborhood, thence to a point near Macedonia and back to Crofton, a distance of about 24 miles. Population to be served about 500.

TWO UNIONS FORMED.

Messrs. McCown and King Visit Lafayette and Roaring Spring.

Messrs. F. B. McCown and M. B. King were at Lafayette and Roaring Spring Wednesday and organized local unions of the Society of Equity at both places. At Lafayette a strong union of 20 members was formed, with Walter E. Garner president and O. A. Elliott, secretary. At Roaring Spring Thos. E. Crenshaw is president and Wick Dawson, secretary. The Lafayette union appointed three delegates to attend the Tobacco Growers' Convention at Guthrie to-morrow. Mr. McCown will go to Guthrie and one of the leading officials of his Society are expected to be there and co-operate with the farmers' meeting.

Mr. McCown will organize a Union at Gracey on Sept. 30, at 2 p. m. There are now six chapters in Christian county.

Carroll Grant.

W. H. Carroll and Mrs. Pleasant P. Grant, of the Consolation country, were married Wednesday afternoon. Rev. W. E. McCord officiated.

COLD WEATHER

Will be on us in a few more days and you will need a heating stove. Before buying you are urgently requested to call and see my INCANDESCENT ST. CLAIR. It is the best stove ever brought to Hopkinsville and decidedly the handsomest in appearance. It is so constructed that it will burn slack equally as well as the best lump coal, and will save you enough in 3 seasons to pay for itself. Space will not permit me to say more about it, but if you will give me five minutes time and I do not convince you that it is the best stove on the market and all I claim for it, I will make you a present of one.

Respectfully,

Jack Meador.

About two years ago a new grocery store opened up in the old yellow building, under the name of M. E. Edmundson, with the choicest groceries, fruits and vegetables. We have been able to give liberal patronage of appreciative customers to make both ends meet. To them we return our sincere thanks and promise to our best in the future to retain their confidence.

The permanent success of any business depends upon the confidence and good opinion of the public. No business can succeed that makes dissatisfied customers. We work and plan to give all goods that we sell give absolute satisfaction in quality and price.

Now, just a word to those who voluntarily promised us at least a share of their patronage. While we have been somewhat disappointed in not having the pleasure of adding your names to our list of customers, we are still anxious to secure your grocery patronage. 'Tis true our stock is small, but it is always good and is kept clean and up-to-date, because we order fresh groceries every week to replace reduced stock. Come in and inspect our goods and our mode of doing business, and if you are satisfied we will certainly appreciate your patronage.

We also extend a cordial invitation to our country friends, many of whom perhaps will learn for the first time, on seeing this advertisement, that we are in the grocery business. Give us a trial order and we will guarantee to please you.

Fair prices, pure groceries, courteous treatment, straight-forward dealing and prompt delivery is the plan we have adopted for this store. Phone us—either "phone"—and we will gladly supply your wants. Tom Edmundson can always be found behind the counter ready to wait on the trade. Claud Sisk, clerk, would be glad to have all his friends call.

Respectfully,
M. E. EDMUNDSON.

ORGANIZE!

Ringing Appeal to Tobacco Planters.

The Meeting at Guthrie To-Morrow Most Important In Fight Against Trust.

A noted Tennessee editor has said that "Every dollar earned by the farmer represented so much 'canned sweat.'" The Bible tells us that man must go forth and "earn his bread by the sweat of his brow," and I believe every word of this.

Then I am prepared to say that it takes more sweat, and honest sweat too, to make tobacco than any other product on the farm. Then why should he not be protected? Self-preservation was the first law given to man, and will be as truly by and see even in the laws of nature taken from him?

The tobacco magnates who have combined their interests to destroy competition, to which the tobacco growers of the Clarksville district are justly entitled, by all the laws of God, nature and man, are exacting from these farmers, annually, from two to five million of dollars of "canned sweat."

What are we going to do about it? Sit supinely still and deliver this "canned sweat" to these sons of greed, who are increasing their fortunes year by year, from spoils unlawfully and unfairly gotten from the sons of toil?

There was never an industrial situation in any country or clime worse than that which confronts us. Bret Harte's lines to the heathen Chinese may be appropriately applied to that we call the "tobacco trust."

"For ways that are dark
And tricks that are vain,
The tobacco trust is peculiar."

This organization does business behind closed doors. The secrets of its councils are sacred. So said, indeed, that I am reliably informed that recently when a piece of information valuable to farmers leaked out, the trust could not on certain which one of ten men was responsible, and the whole was "bred."

And yet the organization has its hired men constantly prying into the affairs of the farmer to ascertain the situation from their end of it. They begin to inspect the fields, and when it is growing in the fields, and to apply the "pump" to the farmer for information. They follow it to the barn and inspect it there, still applying the "pump" to the farmer. The result is, that when selling time comes, the trust, through its agents, knows all about the farmer's affairs and the farmer is in the dark. He has to beg the agents of the trust to come and look at the tobacco with a view of buying. The truth is, the agents do not need to look at it. The record of his crop is tucked away in some pigeon hole. The agent gets his order from the man who has the record. He has no competitor in the field. It is easy sailing. The records have been examined. The decree has gone forth that so much "canned sweat" must come from the sons of toil and come it must.

We are forced into a race with one another to sell our tobacco to "people who have cut out" the race to buy. The racers in the buying have met and agreed on a division of the "canned sweat."

They laugh at the race of the sons of toil to sell, and murmur to themselves, "poor, ignorant fools, the price of your tobacco is already fixed, now race for your lives."

Fellow farmers we must "cut out" this race for ourselves; we must meet this one-man power. Everybody agrees that organization is the proper thing, but we are met on every hand with the statement that "farmers haven't the sense to organize and cannot organize."

Why not? Compare yourselves with those who have organized. The miners, who dig wealth from the bowels of the earth, have organized; the carpenters, who fashion articles of usefulness from the forests of the world, have organized; the railroad men, who direct the currents of commerce, have organized; the painters, who work to beautify and preserve what others have completed, have organized; all classes of men have organized; it is an age of organization.

The farmer stands battle single and alone fighting life's battle against the grim arena of a greedy world. Everybody he sells to is organized; everybody he buys from is organized. Can every body organize except the farmer? Must he struggle, solitary and alone, "grain, gloomy and peculiar, wrapped in the solitude of his own" dullness and inferiority?

I say they can and will organize. They have not organized heretofore because they have not been aroused to the situation which confronts them. They are aroused now. From every quarter comes the battle cry: "Organize!" Let me urge every farmer to come to Guthrie on Sept. 24 and refute the slander on his intelligence and show to the world he can and will organize.

The history of the world shows that the farmers have always done their duty with a Spartan courage when the hour and the issue demanded it. They demand it now. Show your courage. Show your intelligence. Do your duty to yourselves, your families, your posterity, and your country. Arouse yourselves, my fellow countrymen, bare your breasts and to the coward and say:

"Breathes there a man with soul
Who never to himself hath said:
This is my own, my native land?"

CLARK H. FORT, President
Tobacco Growers' Ass'n.

Absees.

W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Mrs. writes: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail, which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abscess to form in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg, so one day I went to J. F. Lord's store, (who is now in Denver, Colo.) He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment. I got a 50c size, and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world."

HEAD SEVERED

From the Body of Woman in Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 19.—The dead body of Mrs. Fannie Porter, 25, was found tonight in a room over Eckerle's saloon at Jackson and Market streets. The head was severed from the body. The police suspect W. Van Dalsen, with whom it is alleged, the woman had been living. The man washed the blood from his hands and also from the razor which he used in his bloody work and then fled. He was captured today. Jaalously was the only motive assigned for the crime.

BEAUTIES OF HOLY LAND.

The Sun is the Magician That Turns

the Dull Earth to a Picture of Splendor.

In the Sunday Magazine, of London,

Archdeacon Sinclair, who was there recently, gives a glowing description of Palestine.

"I was struck," he says, "by its special and wonderful beauty. The sun is the magician of the Holy Land, painting its plains and hills with the loveliest hues and lighting up all with magnificent splendor at sunrise and sunset. The country is far more mountainous than I had realized.

"Then, again, there was great beauty in the fountains and streams, pure and clear, from a limestone country, and sometimes flowing with great freedom.

"Perhaps the crowning feature of beauty in the north of Palestine are the glorious snow-clad slopes of Mount Hermon, which can be seen from the top of every pass among the hills, glittering and glowering in the pure blue vault."

The flowers particularly struck

Dr. Sinclair, who finds it impossible to do justice to their beauty and brilliancy.

Mineral Oil in India.

The production of mineral oil in India has made remarkable strides during the last decade. In 1897 the output amounted to only 19,000,000 gallons, whereas in 1902 it had increased to 55,667,000 gallons. Barmah in this period trebled its output from 18,000,000 to 54,000,000. These large quantities notwithstanding, nearly two-thirds of the consumption is still supplied from abroad.—London Engineer.

No Doubt About It.

Cancer Cured By Blood Balm—All Skin and Blood Diseases Cured.

Mrs. M. L. Adams, Fredonia, Ala., took Botanic Blood Balm, which effectually cured an eating cancer of the nose and face. The sores healed up perfectly. Many doctors had given up her case as hopeless. Hundreds of cases of cancer, eating sores, suppurating swellings, etc., have been cured by Blood Balm. Among others, Mrs. B. M. Guernsey, Warrior Stand, Ala. Her nose and lips were raw as beef, with offensive discharge from eating sores. Doctors advised cutting, but it failed. Blood Balm healed the sores, and Mrs. Guernsey is as well as ever. Botanic Blood Balm also cures eczema, itching humors, scabs and scales, bone pains, ulcers, offensive pimples, blood poisoning, carbuncles, scrofula, fissures and bumps on the skin and all blood troubles. Druggists, $1 per large bottle. Sample of Botanic Blood Balm free and prepaid by writing Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga. Describe trouble and special medical advice will be sent in sealed envelope. THE LAND FOR FAT WOMEN

In the Moor Country Bulk Rather Than Symmetry Is the Mark of Beauty.

In England and America the fat woman has never been considered very attractive. Admiration has gone to the slender woman, even to the one with the waspish waistacced in as small as the stomach, liver and a few other superfluous organs will allow. But the fat woman has been passed by and her more slender, gracier sister has carried off the laurels for beauty of feminine figure.

But over in the land of the Moors things are exactly reversed. There the fat woman reigns supreme.
The slender woman is passed by with a look of pity, says Medical Talk.

According to the Moorish idea of beauty, a really handsome woman ought to be so fat that she cannot walk. The fatter she is, the more beautiful she is considered.
If she can attain two or three hundred pounds of flesh she is considered a dainty morsel for the sultan, and is the envy of all her sex.

The Moorish shape, if shape it can be called, approaches the ideal of feminine beauty when it resembles or rather exceeds the circumference of a barrel, or some other large measure.

What a paradise for the fat woman. There she can eat and drink and feast to her heart's content, denying herself nothing, living an easy, indolent, luxurious life, with no horror of accumulating fat, but rather rejoicing in it, for every pound of superfluous fat she can gain only adds that much to her beauty.

There the ambition of a woman is to get fat. She spends no time trying to reduce her waist measure with baneful corsets, but she lets it expand and go its own sweet way. Physical culture she would regard as an enemy to beauty, and to take Turkish baths, and diet herself, would be considered the height of folly. She wants to be beautiful, and to be beautiful she must be fat.

It seems strange to have things so much reversed. But it may be some satisfaction to the overcurled American woman to know that there is at least one place on the globe where the fat woman has her inning against the slender woman.

THE SCARCITY OF HEROES.

Not Everyone Who Goes to War,
Says a Certain Military Gentleman.

In addressing the class of cadets which recently was graduated from the military academy at West Point, Gen. James R. Carnahan, of Indianapolis, a member of the board of visitors, tried to impress upon the graduates that they were not heroes, relates the New York Tribune.

"In all the world's history," he said, "there have been only two or three heroes, but there have been many good soldiers. Now that you are entering the army, you must take to heart the spirit of this little incident of the Santiago campaign, when war correspondents were making heroes as fast as they could write.

"It was the afternoon of the battle, and a young woman came upon a soldier who was returning to camp badly wounded.

"Are you one of the heroes?"
she asked.

"Lord, no, miss. I'm no hero just one of the Sixth regulars."

Dig Day and Night.
Treasure hunting has become the principal occupation of the islanders of Martinique. They dig day and night among the ruins ruined by the eruption of Mount Pelée for gold and other valuables.

Eternal Wrangle.
First Nonbrette—I am engaged to star in 'Beauty and the Beast' next season.

Second Nonbrette—Indeed? And who have they engaged for the Beauty?—Chicago Daily News.

Great Penetration.
The modern bullet will pierce the carcasses of three horses in succession at 500 yards; of four at half the distance; and one will kill a man after passing through the trunk of a thick tree.

Guilty Conscience.
The sultan has forbidden the wearing of red blouses by Armenian women. The color is believed to symbolize the bloodshed in their country.

CAN'T SEE EMPTY SEAT.

What a Disagreeable Man Says About Woman's Short-sightedness on Street Car.

"I'd like to know why it is that a woman can't see an empty seat on an open car when its staring her in the face," said a disagreeable man, grumpier than usual, under the influence of the heat, relates the New York Sun. "I've had to ride all over town on surface cars a good deal this summer and I've seen cars delayed time and again by the apparent stupidity of women who couldn't find a seat.

"Of course, a woman can't travel along the footboard like a man, but why, after she has taken plenty of time to survey a car which is only half full, will she then be climbing into a row where she either has to stand up until some perspiring man gives up his seat to her, or else squeeze in where she has to sit on the edge.

"You can't expect a conductor to be continually acting as usher, but unless he does most women seem to lose their heads. I'm not one that always cracks up the superiority of my own sex, but in cars the average man shows sense and the woman doesn't.

"The man will have his seat picked out before the car stops.
He has no trouble in picking out the empty spaces in the car. But nine out of ten women go all to pieces the minute the car stops.
After a woman has done a few laps alongside the car looking for an empty seat, it's dollars to doughnuts that she will pick a full one and pass right by one that's got much room in it.

"Seems to me that the street car companies would confer a great benefit on their male passengers if they'd employ men to act as ushers for the women on open cars in the summer or else put up movable signs over empty seats. Then we'd all be happy and I wouldn't find the fact that I can't own an automobile."

WAS A LUCID EXPLANATION

Judicial Charge Which Lacked Nothing of Plainness and Ex-
plicitness.

An English law journal attributes to an American judge, down south the following charge to a jury in explanation of the difference between a verdict of murder and one of manslaughter:

"Gentlemen," he stated, with admirable lucidity, "murder is where a man is murderously killed. The killer in such a case is a murderer.
Now, murder by poison is just as much murder as murder with a gun, pistol, or knife. It is the simple act of murdering that constitutes murder in the eye of the law.
Don't let the idea of murder and manslaughter confound you. Murder is one thing, manslaughter is quite another. Consequently, if there has been murder, and it is not manslaughter, then it must be murder.

"Don't let this point escape you.
Self-murder has nothing to do with this case. According to Blackstone and all the best legal writers, one man cannot commit felony upon another; and this is clearly my opinion. Gentlemen, murder is murder. The murder of a brother is called fratricide; the murder of a father is called parricide, but that don't enter into this case. As I have said before, murder is emphatically murder. You will now consider your verdict, gentlemen, and make up your minds according to the law and the evidence, not forgetting the explanation I have given you."

English as She Is Wrote.
A newly opened establishment in the heart of the city has sent out a circular of which the subjoined is a portion:

"Our Fabrik is fitted up with all the most modern and indispensable electric machinery to the preparation and manufacturing of clothes according to the European and American proceedings. Our manufacture is fitted up in such conditions as to guarantee our products for its good quality and higienic cleanness. They are sent to home if desired. We serve also peditions of sandwiches, at $4 a hundred. Requests at gross must be made to the Fabrik or to the above said Succursal."—Mexican Herald.

Weakness of Sturgeons.

Sturgeons are the weakest of all fish in proportion to their size. A huge sturgeon is perfectly helpless if attacked by a small swordfish.

There are some magnificent mothers in the world to whom maternity gives an added charm, a greater strength. But how few these mothers when compared with the multitude of women who are robbed of charm, weakened and broken down by the burdens of maternity. Motherhood is the highest function of women, and nature meant it to confer the highest joy. Maternity has an entirely new meaning to those for whom it was once only another word for suffering, when they have been made well and strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures the nausea from which many women suffer. It encourages the appetite, tranquilizes the nerves and gives refreshing sleep. It increases the strength and gives great muscular elasticity, making the baby's advent practically painless.

"I had indulged so bad last winter, while expecting to become a mother," writes Mrs. Th. Timmisch, of Yorkville, Ill. (Box 189), "that I could not rest anything without it distressed me terribly. I took five bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and three of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and went through with much comfort, and when baby came had nothing to suffer as compared with other times. It must be known that my case was a very remarkable one, not being overstrong and having had four children within less than three years. I was so weak and run-down I could hardly drag around. You may judge how well I am now, being left entirely alone with five children, of whom the oldest is four years, and can do all my work. I am happy, indeed, for I love children and do not care how many I have if I can be well."

HUNTER'S HAND

Directing His District Committee at Somerset.

Somerset, Ky., Sept. 22.—The Eleventh district Republican Committee met yesterday to re-evaluate the Hunter-Edwards vote in the last primary, and after hearing several speeches denouncing Chairman Frost, for meddling with affairs of the district, adjourned to meet again this morning, when it is thought the nomination of Hunter will be confirmed by the committee, which is controlled by Hunter. The presence of the State Central Committee was resented by the Hunter men, and it was expressed in dilatory tactics.

General sentiment among Republicans of all kinds is that Hunter was fairly beaten. They are much annoyed, however, by the snarl in which matters have gotten. Content papers are already prepared by the Edwards attorneys.

MEETING SUNDAY

At Paducah to Wind Up K. I. T. League Affairs

Cairo is Still Beating Over The Loss Of The League Pennant.

The officials of the K. I. T. League are to meet in Paducah Sunday to close up matters and settle all disputed points. The Vincennes Capital says:

"There will be a wholesale throwing out of games in the city of Paducah Sunday, when the League officials meet if either Cairo or Paducah attempts to change the Kitty League standing, on the grounds of protest, etc. Almost every club in the league has broken Kitty rules in the playing of games and if the constitution of the league is lived up to the letter, there will be a big change in the standing of the teams. As most of the games Clarksville played were played with the services of Pettit who is owned by Vincennes, practically all of her games would be thrown out. Long, the outlaw, played with Paducah and these games would be thrown out. The game Goodwin pitched for Paducah will be thrown out. The games in which Cross and Minor figured with Cairo would be thrown out and many others would also go. Pettit played in perhaps 100 games and if all these are thrown out there is nothing where the pennant would go nor where the teams would stand. The result of the meeting is anxiously awaited and it is expected to be the most interesting occurrence in the history of baseball."

Chief Harry Lloyd, who will manage the Paducah team next season, has signed Dummy Hughes, of St. Louis, for first base. He was with Cairo this year.

BISHOP LLOYD.

Successor to Bishop Dudley Elected at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 22.—The Rev. Dr. Arthur S. Lloyd, secretary of the Episcopal Board of General Missions, New York City, was elected bishop of Kentucky yesterday afternoon by the diocesan council. On the fifteenth ballot the name of Dr. W. T. Manning, of New York, was withdrawn, and the sixteenth gave Dr. Lloyd the required majority.

Dr. Lloyd's life has been one of unbroken success, and his rise in the church, while composed of comparatively few steps, has been of sufficient duration to demonstrate his ability. The honors which have fallen upon him have been won by sheer force of hard work and merit. He comes of an old Virginia family, being born in Alexandria, Va., in 1855. He is married and has five children, four girls and one boy, ranging in age from eleven to twenty-two years. His wife is spoken of as a lovely attractive woman, and is said to be helpful to him in his work.

CERULEAN NOTES.

Cerulean, Ky., Sept. 21.—Messrs. John Rogers and W. V. Stewart left with their families for Summer, O. T., Monday where they will reside. Mr. Elijah Bryant, of Bainbridge, accompanied them, with a view of locating also.

Mr. J. S. White and wife and Mrs. K. P. Turney have gone to the St. Louis fair. They will be absent about ten days.

Dr. J. G. White went to St. Louis yesterday to spend a week at the fair. At Hopkinsville he was joined by his brother, of Birmingham, Ala.

Mr. T. W. Witty has returned from St. Louis, where he spent a week at the fair.

Superintendent Public Works of Lexington, Ky., Says:

"Pe-ru-na is an Excellent Medicine."

J. H. HIPPELGATE.

J. H. Hippelgate, Super. of Public Works, of Westwith St., Lexington, Ky., writes:

"I find that Peru-na is an excellent medicine especially for catarrhal affections and all diseases leading to consumption, bronchial troubles or stomach troubles. It also acts as a preventative and keeps the system in a healthy condition so that it easily throws off disease. It is an excellent tonic and a great appetizer and as a large number of those who have been using it speak very highly of the curative powers, I am satisfied that my opinion of it is correct, and that it is deserving of high praise."

—J. H. Hippelgate.

Peru-na is the remedy for catarrh. Almost everybody knows that by hearsay and thousands know it by experience. Catarrh in its various forms is rapidly becoming a national curse. An undoubted remedy has been discovered by Dr. Hartman. This remedy has been thoroughly tested during the past forty years. Perme-cure catarrh in all phases and stages. There is no remedy that can be substituted.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

GUSHERS OF WATER.

Pecos Valley, Once Desert. Becomes a Rich Garden.

Immigration is Heavy and Farm Areas Already Sell for High Prices.

Artesia, N. M.—Residents of the Pecos Valley in New Mexico are excited by the discovery that underlying more than 600,000 acres of desert land is an apparently inexhaustible supply of water. The fame of the region has spread throughout the country, and even to portions of Europe. The water gushes from the ground wherever borings are made, and pours over the thirsty land, transforming it into a garden of almost remarkable fertility.

Nowhere in the world has such an artesian belt been found. It is a table-land encircled by hills and mountains, fifty miles long by some eight miles wide. It is destined to become one of the richest gardens in the United States, and at the present rate of settlement all the land will soon be valued at fancy prices. Recently Dutchards from Indiana and other states have purchased 15,000 acres of land near the town of Dexter, paying from $15 to $30 an acre. More than 10,000 persons have bought homes in the valley since early spring. Each purchase carries a guarantee, backed by the Santa Fe railroad and C. L. Talmadge of Chicago that water will spout from an iron pipe, no matter where it may be driven into the ground from a depth of 300 to 2,000 feet.

Every Well Successful.

Scores of wells have been driven, and thus far not a failure has been recorded, nor has the flow of the wells diminished as their number increased. In Artesia alone can be seen more than a score of wells throwing their white plumes into the air. Any one of them is sufficient to irrigate a section of land. The first well was put down a little more than a year ago, and today Artesia is a city of nearly 3,000 inhabitants, with banks, school houses and churches. Around about Artesia, as far as the eye can reach, stretches a sandy desert. Further north are orchards and vineyards and fields of alfalfa, which were made by just such wells, and which could not be bought for from $100 to $500 an acre. Accordingly the well driving goes on, and wherever the water gushes forth there soon appears an oasis in as dreary a desert as the sun ever baked. As time goes on these green spots in the desert will run together and the transformation will be complete.

The land owner is his own landlord so far as his water supply is concerned. In other sections, irrigated from reservoirs owned by private companies, the land owner is ever at the mercy of some one else. His farm is under perpetual mortgage to owners of the water supply. In theory he can get water whenever he wants it, but in practice not always. Mayhap the river from which the reservoirs are filled has suffered an unusually dry season and the supply is short. In this event the land owner often gets water indifferently.

What Wells Cost.

Irrigation in the artesian belt, however, is not a poor man's proposition. It takes money to bring a farm under cultivation by this system. Unless he is a large land owner his well will cost him more than his land, but it is an investment which guarantees a 6 per cent bond. A well in this valley will cost between $1,500 and $3,000. For the first 100 feet it costs $1 per foot. After that 50 cents per foot is added for each 100 feet. It is becoming common for several persons to club together, buy adjoining land and drive a party well in the center. If they can agree this is an admirable scheme. In many cases owners of wells are selling water rights to neighbors, who have sufficient means only to purchase their land.

At present very few of the artesian wells in the valley are under control and the waste of water is little short of criminal. But the people of the valley are beginning to realize that every gallon of water wasted may hazard or diminish the supply. Laws have been passed imposing heavy fines for permitting wells to flow uncontrolled.

Many persons wonder that wells were not sunk years ago. The famous South Springs with their flow of eighty cubic feet per minute, capable of irrigating 5,000 acres of land, suggested irrigation to the late John Chisum, of Kentucky. More than fifteen years ago Chisum went into the valley in search of health and discovered the South Springs. Despite the fact that they were 400 miles from the nearest railway station he secured the title to them and bought 7,000 acres of desert land. He built his reservoir, dug his ditches and canals, planted an apple orchard and sowed alfalfa with amazing results. In 1892 J. J. Hagerman bought the Chisum ranch, after having built a railroad from Pecos, Texas, to Eddy, N. M. Later the railroad was extended to Amarillo and thence to the Santa Fe, to which it was sold.

Best Size for Farms.

The amount of land which one man can cultivate profitably does not vary from other irrigated regions. Some persons declare that twenty acres is all that a thorough farmer needs, some prefer forty, while none place the amount above sixty acres. Irrigation in the upper valley of the Pecos has proceeded far enough to permit use of the land in connection with nonirrigable, grass-covered places. Of the Hagerman ranch, near Roswell, for example, about 2,500 tons of alfalfa hay are raised annually and consumed by the cattle, which are brought there to fatten from the Arroyo ranch of 27,500 acres, twenty miles east of Roswell. This method produces the finest cattle and is therefore rapidly growing in favor.

From one end of this valley to the other along the line of the Santa Fe Railroad new sites have been staked off and many of them are filling rapidly. One of the most important aids to colonization is the unrivaled climate. The valley is a table-land averaging about 3,500 feet in elevation and is one of nature's perfect sanitariums. One of the most enthusiastic converts to the valley is Jerry Simpson, "Slick Jess," known formerly of Kansas, Jerry in Roswell, and when I asked him what he thought of the Pecos Valley and its prospects, he said: "I have only two regrets, and they are the bitterest of my life. One is that I did not discover the Pecos Valley fifty years ago and the other is that I have not fifty more years to live in it."—S. Glen Andrus, in Chicago Record-Herald.

A WAY OPEN.

Many a Hopkinsville Reader Knows It Well.

There is a way open to convince the greatest skeptic. Scores of Hopkinsville people have made it possible. The public statement of their experience is proof the like of which has never been produced before in Hopkinsville. Read this case as given by a citizen:

Mrs. W. H. Robb, wife of W. H. Robb, machinist, employe at Forbes & Co.'s wagon works, and residing at 129 High street, says: "I hardly knew for months what it was to be free from an aching back and the irregular action of the kidneys caused at the same time other symptoms which were distressing and oftentimes exasperating. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and the symptoms which it was claimed it would cure seemed so much like mine that I had my husband to get a box for me at Thomas & Traher's drug store. I found that they gave me almost immediate relief and continued taking them for some time. They did me more good than all the kidney medicine I had ever taken put together, and the results of the treatment justify me in subscribing my name to a hearty endorsement of the pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Music on a Chimney.

A dozen members of Cooper's brass band, Barnsley, have given a singular performance. A chimney connected with the local Co-operative society's electricity plant has been completed, and the band were assembled on the parapet at the top of the chimney, about 140 feet high, and from their lofty stand gave a short performance.

IN PENNANT RACE

St. Paul Ball Team Captures the American Association Honor.

Cincinnati, Sept. 26.—With the games that were played to-day the American Association Base Ball League closed the season of 1904, and there is every indication that this has been the most successful season in the history of the organization.

President J. Ed. Grillo, when seen tonight, said:

"There is not a club in the association which has failed to come out on the right side of the ledger. We have had a most interesting race, and consequently, a successful season."

St. Paul won the pennant by 63 points from Columbus, who finished only 5 points above Milwaukee for second place.

Louisville finished fourth, and Minneapolis, Indianapolis, Kansas City and Toledo in the order named.

Situation Unchanged.

Geo. Kuropatkin under date of Sept. 21 says the situation at the front is unchanged. The Japanese detachments are feeling out the strength and disposition of the Russian forces, and Japanese flanking columns are pressing northward. Skirmishes between outposts and patrol parties occur daily, but no engagement of importance is expected for some days.
